eLearning: GDPR Data Protection Officer (DPO)

By the end of this training course, participants will have a thorough understanding of GDPR, the role of the DPO, and the skills needed to ensure their organisation complies with data protection regulations.

Who is the course for?

The GDPR Data Protection Officer course is designed for people undertaking the DPO role within an organisation.

What is the course content?

- Introduction to GDPR
- Roles and responsibilities of a DPO
- Legal basis for processing personal data
- Data subject rights
- Data Protection Impact Assessments (DPIAs)
- Data breach management
- Organisational measures for data protection
- International data transfers
- Liaising with regulatory authorities

What are the learning objectives?

- Comprehensive understanding of GDPR compliance requirements
- Effective management of data subject rights and data breach response
- Implementation of data protection measures and organisational compliance

Approximately 3.25 hours (self-paced)

For people new to the role of Data Protection Officer

£ Enquire for prices

people business